Wreck injures three

Three Belle Glade residents were injured in this accident on SR715 at Chosen Bridge last week when the brakes failed on a city trash truck. The truck collided with a car driven by Clarence Means of Clewiston and then flipped over. In the truck were Robert Lee Wilkerson, 23, of 740 S.W. Ave. E. and Arthur Lee McCloud, 21, of 511 S.W. Fifth St. according to Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Paul Bramlett.

Zoning interests new city manager here

Newly hired Belle Glade City Manager Robert Sanders, who began his job Monday with a Chief's tour of the city during the day and his first commission meeting that night, got his feet wet early as he told the commissioners he intends to make major changes in the city's zoning and subdivision ordinance.

"The most recurring question and problem I've found in my first two days," Sanders said Tuesday afternoon, "have been zoning and subdivision regulations."

As an example, he said that despite a city ordinance to the contrary, a home in a housing development which has not been issued approval or occupancy permits is already being lived in.

Sanders said the final decision will be up to the commission but he will recommend a tight set of ordinances which would get rid of spot zoning and state clearly what type of buildings can be built where.

Sanders said this is a problem he has faced in the past in other communities where he has been involved as a public administrator. His most recent employment was as city manager of Eagle and Steamboat Springs, two towns in Colorado.

He has also received experience as County Administrator of Leon County, as an administrator working for the Florida legislator and as an aide to the governor of Oklahoma.

The 36-year-old former Marine Captain said his top priority over the next couple of weeks will be to familiarize himself with the city's department heads and their problems.

To accomplish this, he said he intends to hold meetings twice a week with those department heads, at their departments, to talk about their problems and programs.

Before beginning that, however, he said he is holding two meetings with all the city's department heads Friday.

He said he has been favorably impressed overall during his first two days in Belle Glade.

Regatta planned for this Sunday

Final plans for the 1976 Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Regatta, due to begin at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at the City Marina, were hammered out Tuesday night at the regular Chamber meeting.

A total of $1,000 in prize money will be offered in the three marathons, including both inboard and outboard speedsters. The marathons will last one and two hours each.

Prize money for the three marathons will be $65 for first place, $30 for second place and $15 for third place.

Miss Crane said she had been notified by Edward Hauptman of the American Power Boat Association that he expects 50-52 entries in the APBA sanctioned races.

The Chamber directors were also informed by Miss Crane she had arranged for 500 barbecue chicken meals to be supplied at $3.50 a plate and Chairman Earl Meredith received volunteers to man the concession stands.

Besides the barbecue chicken, dinners will include baked beans, coleslaw, corn on the cob and tea or coffee.

A flat bed truck is being offered by Billy Cowart, Police Chief Charles Goodlett is taking care of the boats for the races and fire equipment and Dr. C. Orduña and Terry Moss Ambulance Service will be on hand in case of emergencies.

The announcer will be Don Garner of WSWN Radio Station.

Miss Crane said the Chamber has offered to act as a clearing house for information in the past to help area agencies, churches,

by mail and the city picks up the bill.

Altman moved the city manager be instructed to draft an amendment to the present ordinance to delineate the area within which people would be notified and some method of arriving at arriving who would pay for it. He withdrew his motion, however, when Sanders said he will probably be asking for major changes in the ordinance and asked if it not be on the premises all night every night.

The commissioners decided to wait for a recommendation from the city administration and the police department, although Commissioner Altman attempted to get the commissioners decide whether one or more additional employees are needed at the city marina.

Green told the commissioners he would like to put the mobile home on his easement, with a person to live in it, to cut down on the number of burglaries and vandalism.

He stressed the request was no criticism of the Belle Glade Police Department, that they patrolled the area regularly but they couldn't be on the premises all night every night.

Solid waste plan pushed by panel

Members of the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority, meeting in the Belle Glade City Commission Chambers, directed consultants to firm up cost figures and attempt to get federal funding for a three phase coordinated solid waste program in Western Palm Beach County. The program would involve a sanitary landfill and a compost plant but would revolve around an incinerator designed to process 24 hours a day and handle all the garbage west of 20 mile Bend.

Belle Glade Mayor Ralph Kirk and South Bay Mayor Don Tanner were on hand and told the Authority members the two city commissions definitely are in favor of the proposal and would like to see Pahokee join in but are ready to go ahead without Pahokee if necessary.

They also said time is growing into an important factor. The initial cost of the landfill operation and the incinerator was estimated tentatively at $3.9 million.

Harold H. Johnson of the Leonard S. Wegman Co., Inc., one of the consultants, said he is in hopes the 19 acres needed for the total operation might be donated by the present landowner, cutting costs by some $281,000.

The motion to go ahead with the study by the present landowner, cutting costs by some $281,000.

Carol Roberts, representing the City of West Palm Beach, approving the motion were Authority members E. W. "Bud" Weaver of the county commission and Kenneth Harris of the Belle Glade City Commission.

Frank Daly, the Lake Park Commissioner who is chair man of the Authority, said he is more than satisfied at the progress on the Glades plan.

The cost of preparing the landfill was estimated at $121,000 an area for a 14 to 18 acre site, depending on whether or not Pahokee becomes involved in the plan.

The reason for the high price is that the land must be denuded and backfilled with rock until the level is five feet above the mean water table level because once the solid waste is placed on top of it, anything lower would settle below the water table.

The final landfill would be 50 feet high and the annual cost would be some $281,000. The annual cost of the incinerator, which would be of the same type as the one presently being used in Pahokee, would be $330,000.

Charles Anderson, another consultant on the project, said he set three criteria for the program. He said it would have to be environmentally sound, it must work and must be acceptable to the public.

Chamber, Herald to start calendar

In an effort to both inform area residents of upcoming events and coordinate activities to avoid conflicts of schedules as much as possible, The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce is beginning a calendar of events in the next few weeks.

The joint public service project was conceived during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Chamber as a result of the conflict two weeks ago between the Chamber Banquet and a Halloween carnival at Glades Day School.

The point was raised by Chamber Executive Secretary Jewell Crane during a discussion of what the Chamber's goals should be for the upcoming year.

Miss Crane said the Chamber has offered to act as a clearing house for information in the past to help area agencies, churches, groups and schools avoid conflicts in scheduling activities but the idea has received little interest thus far.

Under the new concept, Miss Crane will receive listings for the calendar of events and will forward the calendar each week to The Herald. Hopefully, in the making up of the calendar, groups and clubs will alert the Chamber early enough to avoid the conflicts of scheduling which often detract from the success of either event.

Although the details haven't been completely worked out, Miss Crane said she is willing to start immediately. The deadline for submitting events for the calendar will probably be at least two Thursdays before the scheduled activity.

Anyone desiring more information should contact Miss Crane at the Chamber by calling 994-2745.

Zoning regs studied

Zoning problems came up three times during the Belle Glade City Commission meeting Monday night but nothing was resolved and City Manager Robert Sanders, who had just come on the job that day, said he will probably be proposing changes in the city's zoning ordinances in the near future.

The first proposal to come before the commission was a request to annex property on the west side of SR715, owned by George Goodlett and zone it for liberal business.

Enough opposition was generated on that request to cause a split vote among the four commissioners at the meeting, and a decision to wait until the full commission was available.

The other problem came up in a move by Commissioner Tom Altman to grant sewage hookups to 26 lots in Alma Subdivision, a development being made by Belle Glade developer Roe Steele.

That proposition failed when Altman couldn't get a second and Commissioner Aubrey Farmer said he was unwilling to grant more than six connections before the utilities in the subdivision had been approved by the city and the county health department.

Still another zoning problem came up in the form of a proposal of a group of homeowners on Southwest Third Street to rezone their neighborhood to prevent apartments.

The crux of that problem was how many neighbors should be notified of a requested zoning change, how to determine whether more than the adjoining property owners should be notified, how the notifications are to be made and who should pay for the notifications.

The city currently notifies owners of property within 300 feet of the property in question. The notification is

by mail and the city picks up the bill.

Altman moved the city manager be instructed to draft an amendment to the present ordinance to delineate the area within which people would be notified and some method of arriving at arriving

who would pay for it. He withdrew his motion, however, when Sanders said he will probably be asking for major changes in the ordinance and asked if it not be on the premises all night every night.

The commissioners decided to wait for a recommendation from the city administration and the police department, although Commissioner Altman attempted to get the commissioners

Dutch treat

Sixteen year old Merel Noordenbos of Amsterdam, Holland, told members of the Belle Glade Rotary Club Tuesday about differences in life between the United States and Holland, particularly in regards to school, welfare, taxes and business. "The one thing I don't like about the United States," Miss Noordenbos said, "are the commercials on television. In Holland, we only have about five a day," explaining TV there starts at 7 p.m. and winds up before midnight. The Dutch teenager was introduced to the Rotarians by State's Attorney David Bludworth, who is hosting her in his home as part of a Rotary Exchange Project. Following the meeting, Merel was taken on an airplane ride over the Glades by veterinarian Clarence Kiddier.

Girl shoots herself

A 12-year-old Belle Glade girl accidentally shot herself in the hand Monday with a .22 caliber pistol she and a friend had been playing with.

Lettie Collins, 12, of 429 S. W. Ave. C Apt. 42 was treated at Glades General Hospital for a gunshot wound in the palm of her hand, according to Belle Glade Police Patrolman Dale Fortney.

Fortney reported the gun was owned by McArthur Sparkman, 29, of 503 S. W. Ave. C Apt. 6. Fortney said Sparkman was not home at the time of the incident but his girlfriend, Ornell Victoria Pettaway, was in the apartment with the girl, playing with the pistol.

The police reported Miss Pettaway left the apartment to buy some cigarettes for the victim and when she returned, the pistol had been moved and a trail of blood led to the door.

Fortney said Miss Pettaway took the handgun to Mac's Pool Hall, where she attempted to give it to one of the customers. Miss Collins' brother, Henry Thrasher, 19, of 417 S. W. Ave. E., was in the pool hall at the time, however, and had already heard of the shooting.

Thrasher snatched the pistol from Miss Pettaway's hand and took it to his apartment, where he waited for the police.

The Farm Front by Doyle Conner

The "Accelerated" soil survey program for Florida has accelerated. The state's economic slump put a limit on state funding of the work, and the forecast is that the slow-down is going to throw comprehensive state and local planning off schedule.

Soil surveys are necessary to provide basic data for planning. They are used by developers, engineers, sanitarians, farmers and others to plan facilities such as airports, highways, sewer systems and other uses of our limited land area.

The accelerated soil survey program, aimed at completing soil mapping in 10 years, was approved by the Legislature in the 1973 session. Funding from state sources that year was set at $280,000 which was increased to $352,000 for fiscal 1974-75 and maintained at that level for 1975-76.

Soil scientists say we need an appropriation of $355,000 in the next budget just to maintain the status quo. Even so, with a limited budget the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, which does the field work, has been able to add about 1 1/2 million acres to the mapped area in the past year. This was a little less than was estimated but it represents a fine effort in the light of the smaller work force.

Mapping was completed for 19 counties, including Duval and Marion, and work was started in St. Johns and Lee. But there is a super job ahead, according to our soil scientists, to meet the mandate for comprehensive planning by 1979.

Farm census

$1,383,620. The market value of livestock and their products on farms of $2,500 or more of sales was $14,079,000 in 1974; poultry and their products, $1,000; and crop sales, including nursery products, hay and forest products, $326,814,000. Meanwhile, Palm Beach

County reported 68 farms with less than $1,000 in sales. The value of agricultural products sold on these farms totaled $23,000. The census also reports the number of farms in Palm Beach County which sold $40,000 of commodities per year decreased from 251 in 1969 to 227 in 1974.

Jim Herring sold

A new sign is expected to go up over Jim Herring Chevrolet in the near future when Gordon Carter takes over the Glades' sole Oldsmobile dealership.

Carter is the 29-year-old man, who formerly managed a Buick Chevrolet dealership in Columbus, Ga. and is a native of Section, Ala., took over the company on Nov. 2.

He said he would be keeping the personnel employed under the Jim Herring name and he intends to make no immediate changes. He bought the dealership from Elizabeth Herring, the widow of James Herring.

He said he would be operating the dealership with an emphasis on service and he indicated he would be making improvements within the company's service department to maintain a high level of efficiency and dependability there.

Carter is a graduate of Auburn University and is a Certified Public Accountant. He married the former Jo Ellen Hudspeth of Belle Glade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hudspeth, and she will be working in the new business with her husband.

Canal Hazards group elects new officers

Members of the Canal Hazards Safety Committee elected a new slate of officers for the coming year during Wednesday morning's session at the Holiday Inn.

Outgoing Palm Beach County Commissioner E. W. "Bud" Weaver will become the new chairman after the first of the year. Franklyn Jones has been the committee chairman for the past three years.

Vice presidents will be Marvin Unwin and Tom Swager. Rupert Mock will be treasurer and William Gravely will be the secretary.

In reports offered to the committee, Capaletti Construction Co. was reported to be 17 per cent behind schedule on the section of road between South Bay and SR715. Rinkley is 10 per cent behind between Vine gar Bend and South Avenue E in Belle Glade and Crabtree is 85 per cent behind in the section between Main Street Bridge and Hookers Highway.

The bridge, with a revised completion date set last month at Monday, will probably have another revised completion date because of problems in getting the steel. A team of inspectors will be expected the first part of the week, the 34th time the bridge will have been inspected.

The east lane of SR80 between Vinegar Bend and South Avenue E is expected to be completed in six weeks. Bids for the first phase of the widened stretch of SH80 between the county courthouse and US98 are expected to be let in March, 1977.

Book given

Mrs. Davene Bailey and her daughter, Marcy, present a book to Belle Glade assistant Librarian Janeen Gilbert on behalf of Mu Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority as part of Children's Book Week. The name of the new book is, "Angels Are Easy As Pie".

Public invited to attend GCH open house

Members of the community are being invited to attend an open house at Glades Central High School from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Monday, beginning at the main campus library. Jennie Hancock, secretary for the open house committee, said the open house will begin with refreshments and at 8, the guests will be invited to meet with teachers in designated classrooms until 9.

"We're urging parents and friends of the Glades Central to attend the open house," Ms. Jennie Hancock said. "The idea is to inspire good relationships between the community and the

Belle Glade needs help

With plans moving along to install a three phase garbage and trash disposal system in the Glades, consisting of a combination of an incinerator, a landfill and a composting plant, it's time some people in the federal level of government got their heads straight on what makes up an agricultural area.

The help provided by a concerted effort by three other governmental agencies which are available for Farm Home Administration funding may help but Belle Glade's population has kept the city from receiving a dime's worth of aid in recent years.

The guidelines followed by the Farm Home Administration prohibit the agency, which has a surplus of funds to help rural farming areas, from providing money to any city with a population over 10,000.

Why 10,000? That's the $64 question which nobody can or will answer. Is it a matter of law, a departmental regulation or an unwritten rule?

If anyone knows, they're not talking. In the meantime, Belle Glade, an agricultural community if there ever was one, slides deeper and deeper into a morass of red tape and demands for improvements which cost more and more. The city has spent at least $750,000 on attempting to improve municipal sewer and water systems, as well as a solid waste disposal system and the demands keep coming.

The city now has another temporary operating permit which will allow a limited amount of new sewer connections but without a permanent sewer permit, no real solution to an acute housing problem is in sight.

That permit depends largely on an influx of dollars to pay for a new treatment plant and the city financial well is rapidly drying up.

The only bright spot on the horizon is a promise by U. S. Congressman Paul Rogers and Senator Richard Stone to look into the matter and attempt to find why the 10,000 population cap was clamped on to begin with...and why it should stay in place.

With a little help from our friends in Congress, Belle Glade...and the Solid Waste Authority just might shake enough funds from the federal coffers to ease some of the problems which have been paining the city for so long.

Let's cooperate

Goals are to groups like the Chamber of Commerce what charts are to a ship. If you don't know where you want to go, you aren't likely to get there.

Goals were the subject of a discussion Tuesday night at the regular Chamber meeting and while there weren't that many offered, there were some good ones...some of which probably won't be realized in 1977 or even 1978 but some of which could be realized in a matter of weeks.

We think one of the better short-term goals which could have a long-lasting effect on the area by soothing often frayed nerves of the members of area groups is the coordination of events by the Chamber.

While such a clearing-house for information service probably won't have the impact of a four-laned SR-80 or doubling the available housing, it could reduce or even remove the source of irritation and friction between any number of area groups.

All too often in the past, churches, schools, clubs and other types of organizations have scheduled activities which may not affect the entire community but are important to them, only to find another event scheduled by another organization at the same time on the same date.

And all too often, "we hear complaints the Chamber doesn't offer enough to the people of Belle Glade."

Well, this is one instance when the Chamber has been offering a service the community needs and has been completely ignored by the very people they've been trying to help.

We hope those organizations will take advantage of a new joint project being offered by the Chamber of Commerce and The Belle Glade Herald.

That project includes both notification of the Chamber of upcoming events, information which will be made available to anyone wanting information on scheduling their own events, and publication to provide notice to the public.

We can't stress too much, however, that the calendar of events will be prepared by the Chamber of Commerce, not The Herald.

Who are they for?

In the Suspicions Confirmed Department...

We really shouldn't have been that surprised last week when the Classroom Teacher's Association (CTA or the teacher's union, whichever is preferable) raised a howl over a pay raise given county teachers by the Palm Beach School Board.

It's only interesting that the same teacher representatives were the ones who raised a similar howl a couple of months ago when the school board said there was no money for a raise.

The first howl was ostensibly raised to show the union members what their leaders can do for them. The second was apparently because it might give the teachers some idea of what they could get sans union.

Question: Which county school board has members with a satisfied smile on their faces?

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Don't know when I ever heard so many people talking about the prospects of getting a franchise for a fast food service as when Jugs and Suds made the news over in New Port Richey.

If everybody I've run into in Belle Glade were to open up their own Booby Burger joint, they'd be spilling over into West Palm Beach and Fort Myers.

I remember when Burger King was founded in Jacksonville and for some reason, it didn't make nearly the splash as Jugs and Suds.

I guess you gotta remember though that there weren't any Burger Queens romping around in shorts...and not much more than imagination. That was back in the Fifties and we hadn't even heard of the Fonz up in Milwaukee and he hadn't heard of Jugs and Suds.

I don't know why but we were a little more modest. Matter of fact, modesty went down to somewhere around the ankles when it came to girls' dresses.

If we ever used the term Topless, we were probably talking about a flat-chested girl. I don't know what bottoms would have meant unless someone was talking about my eating habits.

Working topless in a place like a burger joint could have a lot of drawbacks, though. Some of those carhops could get burned in the coffee or drop the tassels in the beer.

My beer we could get at a drive-in was labeled Hips or A&W and when it made it's way to the car, the delivery service was reasonably well clothed...and even when it was a game to leer and make snide comments about a pair of cats in a sack.

I've never even been able to see the sense in a topless restaurant, anyway...at least from the management's viewpoint. The whole idea of topless, I guess, is to suck in the customers but I can't help but think the customers would be distracted from eating.

And so far as getting someone's tassels caught in my beer; forget it! Besides, it didn't take the city fathers over in New Port Richey long to call an emergency session. Wonder if they adjourned early to grab a burger and beer.

Some people have all the luck. Noticed this week where a guy who had half his brain removed back in 1953 is testing out now at above average intelligence and has full use of his whole body except one hand, much to his doctors' interest.

The good physicians said one and all there was no chance the guy would ever be normal again. Said he'd be paralyzed on one side of his body, would lose most of his powers of speech and wouldn't be too bright either.

After all, spooning out about half of a person's brain is a pretty drastic step to take.

With me they didn't have to try. I've got a whole brain (I think) but I'm still a half-wit and near spastic. Can't talk too good either.

All of which makes me wonder if the doctors weren't wrong all along. They keep saying so much depends on the brain. Maybe a person's smarts come from the fluid that displaced the brain matter removed in the operation.

Now, if they just took out my whole brain and made more room for the fluid....

Voice from the Wilderness

By Andy Campanaro

Nice to be here in the Everglades. This is what is known in the trade as an introductory column or the "hey, y'all" piece.

Now, I have to admit all I know about West Palm Beach County is there's a fellow named John Grady. I here, a fellow named Mel Tillis comes from here, and I sold a motorcycle of mine six months ago to a policeman from South Bay.

I've been in Florida since 1966, living in Daytona Beach, Tallahassee, Miami, Lake Wales, Haines City and Port Charlotte, with the newspapers in each one of those areas.

I've always admired Belle Glade as a picturesque place to live and am looking forward to meeting the people here. As I've said, I've already met one of them - a patrolman named Ford and the Chief of Police at South Bay...and I'm sure everybody is as shrewd here as they are. I'd better watch my pocketbook.

I got caught with one of my two motorbikes broken down near South Bay in May. It cost me originally $400, but there was about $200 worth of mechanical troubles working on the creature so I asked at the police station if there was anybody wanted it for whatever.

The chief of police offered me $50 and left the station before we concluded the deal. A summer storm was brewing and I had some 250 miles to go before nightfall, so I was anxious to get my $50 and get going.

But, I was from some conversations on the police radio, I think the chief was out looking to make sure he could unload it for twice the price before he bought it. I was a policeman from South Bay. I came into the station and found out what was happening. Without hesitation, he pulled out two twenties and a ten. Without hesitation, I pulled out the title and signed it over. Without hesitation, the patrolman told his chief on the radio he had bought the bike and, without hesitation, the chief made a few choice comments on the radio and I got the heck out of there.

The point is the man got a good deal and I found out these country boys are pretty slick and shrewd.

The only bad points about this area I've already gathered in is the food here has a strong leaning to down home barbecue-mullet and other such spicy food. And guess whose stomach has been on the blink from lovin' too much barbecue and such spicy food? Well, you can't win them all.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

The Presidential and National elections are over for another four years. For some reason or another my mind reverted back to a few days before the 1972 election when I and one of my more conservative friends were engaged in a political discussion. At that time he informed me that he thought U. S. Senator George McGovern was "receive only the electoral votes from South Dakota, Washington and Massachusetts. Senator McGovern didn't even win in his home state of South Dakota that year. Recalling what had happened to Alf Landon in 1936 and Barry Goldwater in 1964, I responded that this could be very possible. But, I also added that the political party which nominated McGovern for President is the longest-lived political organization in the world. Beginning during the times of George Clinton, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson. And, the reason that it has lasted longer than any other party in this or any other country is that it has recurrently welcomed and absorbed the emerging energies of American life.

I am letter thinking that what I felt in 1972 about the Democratic Party might also apply in 1976.

ELI MARTIN POWERS TOWARD THE SIDELINE IN A SWEEP PLAY
...in an unsuccessful attempt to put points on the board in loss to the Tigers

Crissman scores four times as Glades Day buries Westminster

Mitch Crissman stormed across the Westminster goal line four times Friday night to lead the Glades Day Gators on a 33-0 rampage made all the more remarkable because all the scoring was in the second half.

Crissman made his strikes on runs of 15, 37, 54 and 5 yards, leaving room for only one other score, a 44 yard romp by Danny Kirchman after he'd recovered a fumble. Crissman led the Glades Day rushers with 187 yards reeled off in 16 carries. He was followed by Kenny Buckner, who picked up 20 yards on four carries, and Winston Byrd, who picked up 20 yards in three carries. Tony Duda supplied the air power for the night, connecting on four of seven attempted passes for 11 yards. His passes were to Dick Crockett for five yards. Curt Thompson for six yards, Elmer Miller for two and to Kenny Buckner for a minus two. Buckner led the Gator defensive effort, making eight tackles and two assists. He was followed by Danny Kirchman with five tackles, five assists, one fumble recovery and TD and one interception. Curt Thompson made six tackles and four assists, including two sacks of the Westminster star quarterback. Glades Day picked up a total of 267 yards in rushing for the night, compared to 52 earned by Westminster. In the air, Westminster earned 94 yards to Glades Day's 11. The Gators were penalized 135 yards to Westminster's 45.

Glades Day punted three times for an average of 31 yards while Westminster punted twice for 33 yards. The Gators fumbled once to Westminster's two bobbles.

Raiders lose homecoming, 16-2

An on-again-off-again band of Raiders who hammered their way to within two yards of the Martin County goal line only to come up dry three times lost their homecoming game to the Tigers in a 16-2 loss, their eighth of the season.

The Raiders made some of their biggest plays of the worst season in Glades Central's history in the Friday night game, only to miss scoring from the one foot line, the two foot line and the two yard line. The only score of the night for Glades Central came when Alonzo Butts, a defensive player moved up from the junior varsity for the Martin County game, sacked the Tiger quarterback in his own end zone for two points.

The Raiders' first scoring opportunity came late in the first quarter and was set up by a sensational pass interception by Joe Byrd Jr. on the Martin County 30. That pass attempt was the Tigers' second offensive play of the game and when Byrd picked off the ball and ran to the Martin County seven, it looked like the Raiders were fired up once again to win the homecoming game.

A stiff Martin County Line allowed the Raiders only five yards in three plays, however, and a field goal attempt by Joe Zawadzki, with the ball on the two, failed.

Martin County's first score was set up, ironically, when Byrd failed to convert on the next series of plays and punted down to the Glades Central 25 yard line, where the punt receiver fumbled the ball and a Martin County player picked it up and ran to the 12 before being tackled. Running back Gary Reed carried the ball into the Raider end zone on the next play and then ran in for a two point conversion to put the Tigers on top, 6-0 with 3:22 remaining in the first quarter.

The Raiders received another break when, after they managed to get the ball to their own 14 yard line, Kenneth Shepherd punted out to the 40 and Frank Freeman recovered a fumble on the Raider 36 but they were unable to capitalize and were forced to punt again early in the second quarter.

The home team's second big scoring opportunity came with a faked punt when Kenneth Shepherd, on a fourth and 13 situation at the 50, faked a pass to Ollie Shepard, who sprinted to the Tiger 11 before being run out of bounds.

The Raiders followed up the surprise play with a David Jones pass to Shepard at the four, an Eli Martin run to the two and another Martin run to the Martin County two foot line and a first and goal situation.

With four opportunities to score, Jones' first play was broken up as he attempted to pass, couldn't find a receiver and was sacked back to the Tiger four.

On second down, Jones tried another pass, also unsuccessful. He handed the ball to Ken Henderson on third down and Henderson carried the three enough to have scored had that been the play on first down, but when a fourth down pass also failed, the ball went over on downs. The half ended three series later with the Tigers on the march at the Glades Central 27. The Raiders earned 80 yards in penalties during the first half.

The third opportunity for a Glades Central score came following a Tiger fumble and three runs by Eli Martin gave the ball to the Raiders on the Martin County one foot line with first and goal to go. David Jones attempted a quarterback sneak on the first down and had the ball snatched from his grasp as he plunged into the end zone.

Butts sacked the quarterback on the next play and put the Raiders on the scoreboard for the only time Friday night, trailing the Tigers, 8-2 with 2:15 left in the third period.

The Tigers made the final score of the game midway through the fourth quarter on the heels of an interception of a David Jones pass at the Raider 43. Shepherd plays later, Martin County scored and followed up the TD with another two point conversion to lead the game, 16-2.

Raider coach Willie McDonald said the leading ground gainer on the Glades Central team was Eli Martin, who rushed it twice for 73 yards. Martin also caught two passes for another 29 yards.

Other top rushers were Ken Henderson, who ran seven times for eight yards; Sylvester Knowles, who ran three times for seven yards; Ernest Byrd with two for three and David Robinson, who ran once for five yards. The leading pass receiver was Ollie Shepard, who caught four passes for 72 yards. Others were David Robinson with two catches for 29 yards and Ernest Byrd with one pass for 25 yards.

Phillip Stinson and Anthony Jones led the defense with six tackles each, followed by Kenneth Fitzpatrick and Alonzo Butts with five tackles and two assists each. Calude Brown with four tackles and two assists, Alfred Dinard and Barney Mason, with three tackles and two tackles.

Overall, the Raiders gained 105 yards on the ground, compared to the 155 yards rushing gained by Martin County. The Raiders led in the air attack, however, 106.89 yards.

In gaining their aerial edge, the Raiders connected eight times for 22 attempts and had one interception. The Tigers completed five and 12 attempts and had one interception. The two teams' punting games were identical, each punting five times for averages of 31 yards.

High winds, cold weather didn't stop some fishermen

High winds and colder weather hindered fishing in the Belle Glade area over the week end. However, the more determined fishermen who were able to find sheltered spots did well with several limit catches reported, according to Nan Corbin of Slim's Fish Camp.

Ricky Keel and Devin Keel of South Bay reported 20 bass with their largest going seven pounds on Saturday morning using spoons.

James Jacks, Belle Glade, and J. S. Wolfe, Cleveland, Miss. limited out on bass on Saturday. Bobby Soles of Riviere Beach brought out a frieno on Saturday and took their limits of bass. Bobby fisher with his wife on Sunday and came in with seven bass.

The "fish story" of the week came from Charlie Corbin of Slim's who fishes with his mother in law Mrs. Caline Ritchie, Colquitt Ga., and Aunt Mrs. Edm.

Batchelor, Thomassville, Ga., on Thursday. Charles, certain that they could never be bass fishermen, decided to use cane poles and live minnows to try for speckled perch. They did catch one speck! They also took 30 bass with one going three pounds.

This trio fished again on Friday and again took their limit of 30 bass on cane poles and minnows. Some of the more experienced fishermen who happened to be at Slim's when this party returned were more than a little envious of the ladies conquest of their lake.

The costumes were varied and awards were plentiful when Halloween came to St. Peter's Lutheran School. Besides the normal complement of Draculas and other assorted beasts, there was Jaws, who had almost demolished one pint-sized morsel of a boy, and a crayon who was so bitterly opposed to posing, he almost melted his wax. After the parade, there was a carnival, including pony rides and jail-time for the miscreants...or for anyone who had a friend willing to pay to have him incarcerated.

Xi Zeta Mu meets

Members of Xi Zeta Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met on Oct. 25 at the home of Mrs. D. E.

Wallis. Mrs. Bert Ward served as co-hostess. Plans were made to attend the South Florida Area luncheon being held at the Marco Polo Hotel in Miami on Saturday, Nov. 13 and also attend the Miami Dolphins game on Dec. 5. Mrs. James Chambliss presented the program which included a progress report on the Association of Retarded Citizens (ARC) being formed in the Glades. Members attending the meeting were Mrs. J. D. Lee III, Mrs. Gene Enfinger, Mrs. Gordon Corbin, Mrs. Tom Swager, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Wallis and Mrs. Chambliss.

O'Steen's proud parents of baby girl

Mr. and Mrs. Louis O'Steen (Judy Butler) of Marathon announced this week the birth of their daughter, Rachael Laverne, weighing in at 8 lbs. 1 1/2 oz., on Oct. 15 at Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Butler, long time residents of Belle Glade. Paternal grandparents are the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Benton of High Springs. As little Rachael was born on Oct. 15 at Everglades Memorial Hospital in Pahokee, and her mother stayed with the Butlers out at the old Brown's Farm Village for two weeks.

Chad is six

Chad Hood celebrated his sixth birthday Saturday at his home at 948 S. E. Third St.

Cousins at the party included Chad's sister, Cindy, Nicky and Brian Day, Lisa and Kim Roberts, Eric Pitts, Michael Sprouse, Jody Suttle, Heather Wilson, Mrs. Pat Day and Wayne Amon.

In 70 years, the human heart beats 2 1/2 billion times!

Rev. and Mrs. J.B. Adams

Rev. J. B. Adams and Mrs. Willie Mae White, were united in marriage Sunday, October 24, 1976 at St. John First Baptist Church, Belle Glade. Rev. Isadore Edwards officiating. Rev. Adams is pastor of St. John Baptist Church, Mrs. White, teacher at Glade View School.

Travelers who take CB seriously can now take it to lunch. The bar of the Holiday Inn hotel outside of Wheeling, West Virginia is on the citizen's band radio, with a menu in CB-jargon and waitresses dressed as "Smokies."

Workshop session held by Xi Iota Alpha sorority

Xi Iota Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a workshop session Nov. 2 at the home of Mrs. Alvaro Sanchez. The members present used their sewing talents to brighten several little girls' lives this Christmas. They made doll clothes that are to be given to the Salvation Army to distribute at Christmas to underprivileged children.

Those members lending their nimble fingers to the project were Mrs. Cecil Conley, Mrs. Lee Burke, Mrs. Horace Harris, Mrs. Luis Guerrero, Mrs. Diego Gimenez, Mrs. Ron Cameron, Mrs. Ben Painter, Mrs. Marian Chapman, Mrs. Peter LaChance, Mrs. Joe Crockett and Mrs. Alvaro Sanchez.

Mrs. Sanchez served coffee and pound cake to her guests after the clothes were finished.

Goodwill Industries plans anniversary sale next week

A weeklong anniversary sale, complete with prizes and refreshments, will be held next week at the Pahokee Goodwill Store, beginning Monday at the store at 279 South Lake St.

The store, according to Goodwill public relations coordinator Grace Thurston, will be celebrating its 12th anniversary as the oldest goodwill store in the county.

The sale will last through Saturday and bargains are being offered in clothing, furniture, housewares and miscellaneous items. Door prizes and winning tickets will be posted in the store.

She said one numbered ticket will be given with each purchase.

To help support the sale, Mrs. Thurston said the store "desperately" needs donations of clothing, china ware, glassware and furniture. She said Gullstream Goodwill Industries maintain a recycling center where handicapped people are trained preparatory to finding their employment.

The Pahokee store was begun in December, 1964. There are now nine other facilities in the county.

Mu will host crafts sale

Crafts old and new and some combined make up an unusual display for gift giving and home use, as variety is the theme quantities are limited so come make your selection early, doors will open at 8 a.m. Saturday at Jamison Hall. Some of the crafts represented are: Macrame, Decoupage, liquid and needlepoint, embroidery, crocheting, jelly making and baking.

You will find Christmas items, gift items, kitchen accessories, dolls and toys. You may also select a potted plant for your yard or home and a sweet for your table.

The girls of Mu Upsilon will be there to welcome you and explain how some crafts were made. You may even come away with a secret family recipe.

American Legion barbecue

Belle Glade American Legion Post 30 will host a barbecue, beginning at noon on Nov. 21. Barbecue ribs will be the main course and side dishes will be available to eat at the Legion Hall on Southeast Avenue D or to take out.

Donations for the event will be $4 per plate.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The dining room and kitchen at the Belle Glade Country Club will be closed on November 22nd and November 23rd for renovation and repairs. The lounge and pro shop will remain open as usual.

Pesticides applications sessions planned

GAINESVILLE. Because of the large turnout of pesticide applicators to recent state-required training sessions, the University of Florida (UF) is now planning several additional sessions.

"The response has been so large that we were unable to accommodate everyone interested in the training sessions," said Dr. Richard Lipsey, pesticide chemical coordinator with the UF's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS). "Future training sessions are being planned, based on requests made to my office."

More than 6,000 pesticide applicators have been trained in the safe use of restricted pesticides since passage of the state's 1974 pesticide use law. According to the law, anyone using restricted use pesticides after October 21, 1977 must be certified by the state or be under the direct supervision of someone who is certified. Commercial pesticide applicators are required to attend training sessions sponsored by UF.

"To date, the IFAS Extension Service has trained and examined 2,685 commercial pesticide applicators in Florida," said Lipsey.

"Training was held in West Palm Beach, Orlando, Homestead, Palmetto, Gainesville and Marianna." County agents have conducted training sessions for farmers, nurserymen, and grovers and other private applicators. A self-study option with a take-home examination is available from the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services in Tallahassee. County agents should be contacted for training sessions information.

Commercial applicators who would like to attend future UF training sessions should contact Dr. Lipsey at 206 Newell Hall, University of Florida, Gainesville 32611 or call (904) 392-4721.

Defeat of Proposition 14 "encouraging"

GAINESVILLE. The defeat of Proposition 14, a controversial California farm labor proposal, has been labeled an encouraging sign both for Florida farmers and Florida citizens by the president of the state's largest farm organization.

"We were all looking with some apprehension at this initiative statute which was placed on the ballot by Proposition 14 was that it would have provided for open ended funding of the state's Agriculture Labor Relations Board (ALRB)," said Kautz. "Legislators would have been forced to provide funds for ALRB, whether they felt it deserved funds or not. The taxpayers of California simply did not want that kind of funding for any project."

Kautz said he was also pleased that the repeal of the right to work law in Arkansas was defeated by a two to one vote. Right to work laws guarantee workers the right to a job, whether or not they are union members.

"Citizens are telling the unions that they can't have everything they want," said Kautz. "I hope this will serve as a harbinger for Mr. Carter when he begins to think about repealing national right to work laws." Kautz said President-elect Jimmy Carter has said he will sign legislation that would repeal right to work laws.

Glades museum now open

A Glades area historical museum is now a reality! During the past six months you may have read about the Lawrence E. Will Museum, an addition to your municipal library sponsored by the Belle Glade Bicentennial Committee. If you traveled the southern end of Main Street you could see the construction in progress. Now the building is complete and some furnishings are in place with exhibits.

The public is invited to view the displays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Fridays. At the present time, on Saturdays, please ask at the library information counter for museum entry. Teachers are encouraged to call the library at 996-3453 for a scheduled time to bring classes for a tour.

Items included in the museum portray the history and progress of the Glades area. All residents who have items pertaining to the history of this area which they feel would be of interest to others, please get in touch with museum personnel about displaying them.

County agents should be contacted for training sessions information. Commercial applicators who would like to attend future UF training sessions should contact Dr. Lipsey at 206 Newell Hall, University of Florida, Gainesville 32611 or call (904) 392-4721.

GCI Jaycees plan Veteran's Day program

Military weapons will not be fired on Veterans Day at Glades Correctional Institution, but the GCI Jaycees will pay tribute to the men and women who have served in the Armed Forces through their "Veterans Day 1976" Program.

The American and Jaycee flags will be displayed in the Inmate Dining Hall, with a placard: "We salute members of the Armed Forces that have served our nation."

Realizing that many Veterans have given their lives in the service of our country, the Jaycees will lower the American and Florida flags to half-mast at noon and hold a brief "Memorial Service" at the GCI flagpole, with the band and Coast Guard, who will participate in the noon and afternoon events.

Man drowns

SOUTH BAY. A Gulf & Western Okechans Supra, Mill farm worker's body was found floating early Tuesday morning near the spot where he and his tractor plunged into the North New River Canal south of here on US27 David Graham, 34, of 505 SW Fifth St., drove his tractor into the canal Friday when he apparently cut his wheels too sharp to turn onto a narrow bridge over the canal.

Neighbors
If you and your neighbor's dog are on good terms, offer to "pet sit" when his master goes away.

Don't jump to conclusions about your neighbors. If one is a member of the Teamsters Union, don't assume he's the stereotyped truck driver. A teamster may be a leader in the United Way campaign, a deacon in a church and a very good neighbor.
